

Wisconsin Solar Energy Industries Association

Solar Social/Discussion

Wednesday, May 21st, 2014

5:30 - 7:00 PM

Milwaukee Ale House

233 N Water St #1, Milwaukee, WI 53202

Powered by:

Becoming an Effective Solar Advocate

WiSEIA is proud to host Alex Cornell du Houx. Alex joined the U.S. Marines out of high school, deployed to Fallujah Iraq and graduated from Bowdoin College. He served two terms in the Maine House of Representatives from 2009-12 and received a direct commission in the Navy reserves and deployed to the Middle East.

Alex was hired by the Truman National Security Project to start the program Operation Free, a coalition of veterans and national security experts who believe oil dependence and climate change pose threats to national security. As part of Operation Free, he organized and spoke at press conferences and events at the White House, conducted bus tours across the United States and participated in the United Nations Climate Change Conference in Copenhagen.

Schedule:

5:30 to 5:45 - Networking
5:45 to 6:30 - Presentation
6:30 to 7:00 - Networking

Appetizers will be provided, cash bar for beer brewed by solar power!!

To RSVP or for more information, please contact Nick Korth at nick.korth@caleffi.com or call 715-207-8931.

This presentation is being coordinated with Wisconsinites for Energy Freedom, dedicated to ushering in a safer, more reliable and more prosperous energy future. You can join Wisconsinites for Energy Freedom by liking their page on Facebook, following @Wlenergyfreedom on twitter, or signing up for email alerts through Wlenergyfreedom.com.